

ANOTHER TOP AWARD FOR BRENTHURST WEALTH

For us, the greatest reward is guiding our clients to investment success through excellence and alignment with their unique financial goals.

“Our long-standing client relationships - many dating back to the founding of Brenthurst in 2004 - are a testament to this approach,” says Brian Butchart, CFP®, Managing Director. “We believe this loyalty has been a driving force behind our exceptional growth.”

Our continued focus on excellence and forward-thinking investment strategies has earned us the Daily Investor Top Boutique Wealth Manager award for the third consecutive year. This prestigious recognition is based on a comprehensive industry survey of South Africa’s highly competitive financial services sector.

In its 2025 report, Daily Investor stated: “Brenthurst maintained its strong position in the boutique wealth manager category, after also taking first place in 2024.”

“Brenthurst’s performance was bolstered by an effective marketing strategy and the high profile of its co-founder, Magnus Heystek. The company and Heystek have a strong media and social media presence, with a good blend of sponsored content and organic media.

“This makes it a go-to choice for South Africans looking to invest.”

Marketing Director, Sue Heystek, says it is an exceptional achievement considering the number of wealth managers active in the local market. “We have developed a multi-media marketing strategy with a major focus on content. Our advisors publish regular articles and participate in media interviews to guide investors to making better decisions regarding building wealth and protecting their investments. This, combined with advertising, social media activities, events (webinars and in person seminars), sponsorships and corporate social investment initiatives have collectively built the Brenthurst brand name as a leader in wealth management.”

Co-founder, director and investment strategist, Magnus Heystek, says that when Brenthurst started advocating the repositioning of investments offshore for superior returns more than a decade ago, the industry frowned upon this advice and even openly criticised it. “We stuck to our guns, and this has resulted in our leadership position amongst boutique wealth managers.”
